

Re: WOT: McCain Political Ads

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.electronics.design/2008-08/msg02986.html>

- From: Kris Krieger <me@xxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Sun, 17 Aug 2008 13:49:21 -0500
-

MooseFET <kensmith@xxxxxxxxxx> wrote in <news:20098707-2bbb-4ec5-8327-659365d43e64@xx>:

On Aug 17, 5:28 am, Jim Thompson
[...]

Please post any link that supports your claim. Here it is in case
you've forgotten:

 begin quote

Also, the original claim was that it would save Millions (plural!) of barrels A DAY!

And it was then repeated for several days... by both the worshipful press, the Obama campaign, and BY OBAMA HIMSELF!

 end quote

[...]

Liberals are never deterred by their ignorance. After all, they have their faith in the Obama-nation.

Do you have any links that prove Charlie's case? I have noticed that he seems to edit the quotes back out each time. By now, he will have done a bunch of looking.

Re: WOT: McCain Political Ads

Ah, but M'sieur Moose, proof is irrelevant to belief. He BELIEVES that Obama is the scourge of mankind, and he therefore also BELIEVES that anyone who independently reads/listens to what the candidates themselves say (as opposed to what talking heads and "pundits" say), and comes to a conclusion that differs in any way with his belief, is a stupid and reprehensible sub-human. Proof and evidence mean nothing against that belief, because any evidence that runs counter to it is "obviously" just part of some conspiracy among other "slime".

.