Seems there are not many

I do not know about this for off topic posting, but this group really has little to do with electronics.

It is mostly blather about everything else – present post included. The sages of the industry who gather here might know their craft, but their opinions on everything else diminishes the esteem in which they justify a monthly charge.

Time to go tend the fields. I have a new crop of bits
