

Re: Rca tv problem, can I do this for a fix?

Re: Rca tv problem, can I do this for a fix?

Source: <http://sci.tech--archive.net/Archive/sci.electronics.repair/2006-01/msg00298.html>

- From: stryped@xxxxxxxxxxxx
 - Date: 4 Jan 2006 07:17:29 -0800
-

x-no-archive:yes

Are you calling the shield the cover to the tuner?

I have a gun not the pencil tip kind but I can get one.

I have limited income due to a baby and would like to fix it myself.
Plus the tv is very heavy.

Since it gets better when wiggeling the rf connector, could this be the only problem?

kip wrote:

- > Wiggle it some more and it will break off..
- > You will need a Mag Glass and fine tip iron to repair the shield.
- > Now if you dont know what the shield is then take the TV to a repair shop.
- > Do a Google on it....There is plenty of info there....

>

>

> <stryped@xxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message

> news:1136385387.336038.120590@xx

> > x-no-archive:yes

> >

> > I have not taken this off yet. Is this a hard repair? Where and what is > > the sheilding can?

> >

> > I have noticed that wiggeling the rf connector makes thie picture come > > back.

> >

> > I really appreciate your help.

> > Ralph Mowery wrote:

> > <stryped@xxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote in message

> > news:1136337370.394058.62670@xx

> > > x-no-archive:yes

> > >

> > > I have posted about my 90's model RCA tv certain channels going out > > > then coming back on. I can make them come back by jiggeling the rf > > > connector in the back.

> > >

> > > I read something about someone taking a small guage wire and soldering

Re: Rca tv problem, can I do this for a fix?

Re: Rca tv problem, can I do this for a fix?

>>>> the tuner shield to a ground to eliminate all the soldering. Since I am >>>> an inexperienced circuit board solderer, would this be feasible to do?
>>>> DO I understand that right? They soldered a wire from the metal tuner >>>> cover to a ground?
>>>>
>>>>
>>> RCA had many problems with the solder. Especially around the tuner. You >>> may have to take the top of the tuner and solder everything you see, >>> especially the solder traces around the shielding can. Then put the lid >>> back on.
>>>
>>

• References:

- ◆ Rca tv problem, can I do this for a fix?
◇ From: stryped
- ◆ Re: Rca tv problem, can I do this for a fix?
◇ From: Ralph Mowery
- ◆ Re: Rca tv problem, can I do this for a fix?
◇ From: stryped
- ◆ Re: Rca tv problem, can I do this for a fix?
◇ From: kip

- Prev by Date: Re: Fuse question
- Next by Date: UPDATE: Zenith TV SJ2573BG Main 9-1133 (Sep 91) No Color
- Previous by thread: Re: Rca tv problem, can I do this for a fix?
- Next by thread: Re: Rca tv problem, can I do this for a fix?
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread