

WANTED: Computer monitor repair in Boston MA

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.electronics.repair/2007-01/msg01186.html>

- From: Rick <rickajho@xxxxxxx>
 - Date: Fri, 19 Jan 2007 19:51:35 -0400
-

Anyone willing to repair a computer monitor – for pay, of course – in the Boston MA or north shore areas?

I have a high end multisync Relisys 15" monitor where I know a large power resistor became desoldered. It still powers up and the status LED blinks but no display. I don't feel comfortable working on high voltage stuff myself. It has a great display – up to 1600x1200 dpi – and I'd like to get it repaired if possible.

E-mail me private if you want the repair job, or know of any shops in the region still repairing computer monitors. (And no – Stereo Component Service doesn't repair computer monitors any longer. And no – the TV repair shops in the region won't touch computer monitors. At least all the ones I checked.)

Thanks

Rick

.