

Re: Damproof cable

---

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.electronics.repair/2008-04/msg01616.html>

---

- From: "James Sweet" <jamessweet@xxxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Wed, 30 Apr 2008 21:16:50 GMT
-

Sounds like fighting fire with fire. How to avoid liquid migrating along a core – flood the interior with liquid.

It's not as if it's filled with saltwater. The "liquid" is a very nasty thick grease, I think it's silicone based. It has the look and feel of uncured clear silicone caulk, really gross stuff, I haven't found any solvent that washes it off, hence the comment about the roll of paper towels.