Bob,

It's a press release announcing patent application. Your post is the most nonsense I hope to see today. You use words like "googledygook"??? Harvard?? or Yale??. What stupid shit is that. You don't know what SHEC Labs does and you are too dumb to understand. Why would they put the patent application anywhere but in the patent office. Everything else is a press release to tell the knowledgeable public, (a group in which you are obviously not included) You are Bull Shit, Bob, by saying you don't know what SHEC Labs does, and in the same instance defaming the company. It is American dumb shits like you who are driving the poor country into 3rd World Status. Crawl back in your hole Bob.
