NO FAIR!! I want my old usenet postings to be exposed for 'all the world' to see. How come you didn't also shame me with your clever internet detective work?

Oh, I'm sorry, I didn't mean to make you feel left out.

The main trick of perpetual motion can be interpreted as to find ways to combine opposing positive and negative forces into one big useful force. What you say isn't really important it's when and where you say it that makes all of the difference. :-)

You could be talking to a stool.

FREE ENERGY Technologies Intro

Global HEATING is now widely recognized as a major THREAT to the World, in many ways. It may be due in part to natural or cosmic cycles, but it SHOULD be OBVIOUS that WE are making it MUCH WORSE, MUCH FASTER, by pumping so much EXTRA carbon dioxide into the air by burning fuels for energy.

During the past several decades, back to the 1930's or before, the various "POWERS THAT BE" have been systematically IGNORING and SUPPRESSING several kinds of "FREE ENERGY" Technologies.

These are devices, inventions, that tap energy SEEMINGLY OUT OF THIN AIR without burning any kind of fuel. Some of them are magnetic, some are electro-magnetic, some are VORTEX, and some are HYPER- or INTER-DIMENSIONAL.

They include a patented motor (#4,151,431) that runs EXCLUSIVELY on specially shaped, oriented, and spaced permanent MAGNETS; and 1930's civil engineer Viktor Schauberg's "IMPLOSION TURBINE" that runs on the same energy source that powers a TORNADO.

Inventors have been THREATENED, BOUGHT OFF, KILLED, or IMPRISONED on TRUMPED-UP charges.

It should be pointed out that the physical laws of "thermodynamics" and "conservation of energy" DEPEND on the ASSUMPTION that the physical universe that we see around us is a "CLOSED SYSTEM". It is NOT !

I have a page with links about Howard Johnson here.

I don't think he build any useful generators but he did make elaborate expensive proof of concept self rotating device and he managed to get a patent for one.

Patents tend to come with interesting references.

"Permanent magnet motor

Abstract

The invention is directed to the method of utilizing the unpaired electron spins in ferro magnetic and other materials as a source of magnetic fields for producing power without any electron flow as occurs in normal conductors, and to permanent magnet motors for utilizing this method to produce a power source. In the practice of the invention the unpaired electron spins occurring within permanent magnets are utilized to produce a motive power source solely through the superconducting characteristics of a permanent magnet and the magnetic flux created by the magnets are controlled and concentrated to orient the magnetic forces generated in such a manner to do useful continuous work, such as the displacement of a rotor with respect to a stator. The timing and orientation of magnetic forces at the rotor and stator components produced by permanent magnets to produce a motor is accomplished with the proper geometrical relationship of these components.
