Oh the poor little right wing nut job, who must have been doing some searching for me, to come here in this *science* newsgroup. Now we have got a scientific debate going on here, and you, being a Bush supporter, will probably want to be teaching our children stuff line "Intelligent Design" instead of science.

I never stole any women. How can anybody own a woman? A woman belongs to herself, and if I make certain American women happy, then what has that to do with you? The one from Alabama has never been the same since she flew home; she is now on her third divorce, so obviously American men are not doing a very good job of keeping her happy, are they? And every time she gets a divorce she gets back in touch, but of course at the moment Mr Possessive thinks he owns her, but with the Xmas party season coming up now, I think he will go and blow it by trying to stop her having any fun. What's the bet she will get in touch again soon?

As for stupid Lawyers who go complaining about three in a marriage, just cos I can make his wife laugh on the phone, while all he does is make her depressed; I sometimes wonder how he is now too. He was busy printing out everything I ever posted, which only goes to show what an asshole he is. He would have been far better employed studying my lines and improving them to learn how to make his wife laugh, instead of using them to make threats that showed him up for the bully that he is.

Hey, why don't you put your money where your mouth is and give your wife my email address? I bet I can make her laugh better than you can.

Humpty Dumpty Bush fell off the Iraq wall.
Humpty Dumpty Bush had a big fall.
All his spin doctors and all the President's men couldn't put Humpty Dumpty Bush together again.
