Who said I was an expert on anything? I sure didn't.

Am I yet again (for the umpteenth time) dealing with someone who is ASSuming that I think I am an expert, a know-it-all, infallible, and never make mistakes?

Where do people get the idea that I am like this? Why am I constantly having to correct this mistaken notion?

This must be a trait of pseudoscientists, in that they think their opposition has the above traits.

Fascinating....utterly fascinating.

(talk about deja vu!)
