

Re: Meteorology conference in St. Louis

Source: <http://sci.tech--archive.net/Archive/sci.geo.meteorology/2005-09/msg00064.html>

- From: Harold Brooks <hebrooks87@xxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Tue, 20 Sep 2005 13:32:00 -0500
-

In article <u2YXe.18394\$tB5.12494@okepread06>, d Moran21@xxxxxxx says...

> I seem to remember something about a meteorology conference in St. Louis, > Missouri next year, but I can't find anything on it. Does anyone know > anything about this?
>

The National Weather Association annual meeting is there next month:

<http://www.nwas.org/>

The American Meteorological Society's Severe Local Storms conference is likely to be there in October 2006.

Harold

--

Harold Brooks
hebrooks87@hotmail.com

• References:

◆ Meteorology conference in St. Louis

◇ From: David Moran

- Prev by Date: Re: What is the difference between metar and aaxx???
- Next by Date: Re: What is the difference between metar and aaxx???
- Previous by thread: Meteorology conference in St. Louis
- Next by thread: Questions about SE US heat wave
- Index(es):
 - ◆ Date
 - ◆ Thread