

Re:unwanted E-mail

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.geo.meteorology/2006-09/msg00003.html>

- From: "Weatherlawyer" <Weatherlawyer@xxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: 1 Sep 2006 20:02:09 -0700
-

Weatherlawyer wrote:

Jean Smith wrote:

Jean Smith wrote:

How does the hurricane still a hurricane after two days ashore thing work?

Ernie couldn't even handle Hispanola, much less days over Cuba. It's just a tropical storm.

You noticed?

Well done.

The thing is my dear, you are not alone in thinking that some cyclones get all the news whilst others seem to get none.

This may have something to do with the fact that the USA takes every opportunity to kill black people whenever the little man comes out.

Or is it the little woman with the umbrella?

Both?

And you thought that meteorology ought to be free of racism? Come back when they have resolved sexism, you silly biatch.

This drw the ir of someone called Alex:

PLONK!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Don

<snip>

----- Original Message ----- From: "Weatherlawyer"
<Weatherlawyer@xxxxxxxxxxx>

Re:unwanted E-mail

Newsgroups: sci.geo.meteorology
Sent: Tuesday, August 29, 2006 2:03 PM
Subject: Re: Hurricane Ernesto

Fancy going to the bother of telling me.

Let's hope it's THE Alex. It certainly sounds like the plonker.

.

Re:unwanted E-mail