I second the recommendation for gpsgeek.com (aka the Gillson antenna folks). I just placed an order from them on Tuesday and got it today (Thursday). They're on the west coast and I'm on the east coast. Two days ain't bad! :^) I wanted a neoprene case for my GPSMAP 76CS and they were the only folks to have one. I have no affiliation with them other than being a satisfied customer. Check them out, they will probably have what you're looking for at a great price.
