Hi

I have the old (non colour Vista) and have a question about route navigation...

Is there an easy way of telling it to navigate to the next waypoint when you've gone close to the previous waypoint, but not actually over the top of it! For instance, this morning I navigated around a route which I'd set up for a new cross country run. Even when I went within 100' of a waypoint it didn't switch to the next wp, it told me to head back! Is there a setting to say how close you have to be to a wp before it decides you've been there, or can you easily tell it to goto the next one?

The only way I could do it was to do Main menu > Routes > My route > select next wp > Review > Goto – somewhat cumbersome I'm sure you'll agree!

Any help gratefully received.

Thanks
