I like the look of the locking Touratech mount for the Garmin 276C, and would like to get one for my 176C. Touratech lists several mounts for the 176C, but none of them are locking. Are the 176C and 276C similar enough that they could share mounts, or are they different enough that one wouldn't fit in the other?

BOTTOM LINE: Would my 176C fit securely in one of the 276C mounts.

Thanks!
