I'm an avid user of gps for hunting, atving and geocaching. My in laws are NOT. They don't have a computer and struggle using a VCR. They bought a Garmin Legend a few years ago and it's still collecting dust in a closet somewhere despite repeated attempts to learn. Now they want an automotive gps for travel in Eastern Canada and USA. This is their xmas gift to themselves and they want my advice. I'm not sure what to recommend. I think the important feature here is user-friendliness. Price range is $400-$600 (Canadian). What would you suggest?
