An interesting sentence. I wonder exactly what the "jg part means, and who did it?

From a Japanese grammar point of view I shouldn't even try but Äi¼WhWF...

Would the 'original' be "jL "jgÁ'nQ kW_
and not being able to have "jgLûûû it was ellipsed.

I've probably thoroughly missed the point. ^^v

(Hmm, I thought you could say " "jgÏc_" but Google doesn't like it ...)

Talking about interesting sentences in WWWJDIC ...
