First off – should these two really be different entries?

{i (prt) indicates approx. amount or maximim; upper limit
{i (n-adv,n) degree; extent; bounds; limit; (P)

Secondly anybody come across this use of {i?
(I expect so – I think it's quite common but it doesn't appear to be covered by Edict)

But maybe that's the easiet way to suggest the prt is best written in kana and the noun in kanji?

That comment would fit up in (1) "this use of {i" and on was referring to K%{i`D.

Indeed, that's where I meant to put it, but I oftimes don't notice that the cursor hasn't landed where I threw it.

In any case the best wasy to suggest that the prt is best written in

Re: kara hodo

kana would be

{i (n-adv,n) (1) degree; extent; bounds; limit; (2) (prt) (uk)
indicates approx. amount or maximim; upper limit

Wow, once again you've been righter than your correspondent twice in the same post!
