

Re: Query: Use of WO where DE is expected.

Re: Query: Use of WO where DE is expected.

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.lang.japan/2006-07/msg00309.html>

- From: "chance" <livewire@xxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Sat, 15 Jul 2006 07:42:45 +0900
-

"mirror" <<mailto:xxxxxxx>> wrote in message
<news:4h3gb2df1eccp25cd374jv13jatp0bfvdv@xxxxxxxxxxx>

Hello,

In Jack Halperin's big kanji dictionary on page 30 for the entry I (as in `igai' and irai') is...

"Kogatana o motte korosu." (to kill [a person] with a knife)...

'Kogatanawo motte korosu' may mean [to kill a person,
using a knife]. while 'Kogatanade korosu' may mean [to kill a person with a knife], if you can insist that there may be a difference between the two.

CK