OK,

First – Thanks Dave. You read my like a book – which is what I would hope would be rather like common sense.

2nd – I do have some Japanese friends – but to ask them would be like just asking my wife – of course the "word" would get back to my wife. But this way, it is the most anonymous way I can think of to present this dilemma. I do appreciate all of your indulgence on this issue.

Here is where they are posted:

Let me know if you all can hit them or not.

Thanks, And if you ever want any desert artifacts out of Arizona... I have lots of sand and cactus! :o)

Steve
