

Re: Query: Regression to the Pimsleur.

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.lang.japan/2007-07/msg00408.html>

- From: Jean-Marc Desperrier <jmdesp@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Thu, 26 Jul 2007 10:11:57 +0200
-

mirror wrote:

With no one to talk to, I can read somewhat but can't produce an ounce of speech.

Hum, I think that just listening to a good quantity of actual japanese already would help a lot. That could be a great shock though at first after only being confronted to japanese in text book. I think they are some news programs aired on the internet, but it might be not en easy start, and something with subtitles would be better. So try to search for the jdrama keyword, and you'll find many things.

Another interesting option would be to try Skype and search for some japanese who want to enhance their english.

.