Hello,

I've studied Japanese through texts for the last five years for at least three hours a day. To make a short story long, it has been Pimsleur, Makino (refs, textbooks and audio), Jorden (all texts and audio), Alfonso, Chino, most of the Power Japanese, Bonjinsha kanji, blah. Repeated it all for effect.

With no one to talk to, I can read somewhat but can't produce an ounce of speech.

I recommend you start writing some Japanese here. I don't say you must write entire post in Japanese, but I assume you should be able to write the last sentence above in Japanese, for example.
