

Re: NZ Culture, Bharatiya Sanskruti similar – Dr Guna Magesan

---

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.lang/2007-02/msg01537.html>

---

- From: benlizross <benlizro@xxxxxxxxxx>
  - Date: Tue, 20 Feb 2007 19:30:56 +1300
-

Peter T. Daniels wrote:

On Feb 19, 7:20 pm, benli...@xxxxxxxxxx wrote:

On Feb 20, 9:36 am, "Peter T. Daniels" <gramma...@xxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

On Feb 19, 2:08 pm, benlizross <benli...@xxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

mb wrote:

On Feb 19, 3:30 am,
benlizross
<benli...@xxxxxxxxxx>
wrote:

Dr. Jai
Maharaj
wrote:

Isn't there a better place than sci.lang to talk to that guy about non-language stuff? Really.

Re: NZ Culture, Bharatiya Sanskruti similar – Dr Guna Magesan

Well, in this case it is (in part) language stuff. If you read the item -- it's pretty short by J-Doc standards -- you'll see that Magesan, like Tregear before him, thinks there are Maori-Sanskrit cognates.

Of course I'm not actually talking to "that guy", in the sense of expecting a reply. J-Doc just forwards stuff from other people, about which he generally knows nothing, except that it has something to do with "Hinduism" or "Sanskrit". I merely posted a couple of lines for the information of sci.lang people who might be interested.

But you posted them to alt.fan.etc. as well as to sci.lang.–
Hide quoted text –

For off-language posts, when I reply, I generally take the trouble to remove sci.lang from the followups. Since this was on-topic, I did not. I cannot be bothered looking to see what congeries of groups J-Doc has decided to post to, then consider for each of them whether the topic is really relevant. I assume this particular one is relevant to soc.culture.india, and I assume alt.fan.j-m is home to any sort of rubbish at all as long as you-know-who is somehow involved. As for the rest, let them sort it out.

We have to assume that alt.fan.etc. is the only one the nutcase looks at.

No, I don't think this is true. You might notice that Dr J has just graced with his presence both the "manufactured languages" and the "larger breasts" threads, previously posted only to sci.lang, now to a j-doc portfolio of assorted groups.

Thus if you actually want to discuss some loony point of his,

_that's_ the one you need to remove, else you attract him to return here again and again.

Re: NZ Culture, Bharatiya Sanskruti similar – Dr Guna Magesan

Re: NZ Culture, Bharatiya Sanskruti similar – Dr Guna Magesan

The loony points are generally not his anyway, and he seldom takes up responses to them. And as the above examples show, he keeps coming back here whatever others may do.

Ross Clark

.