I can't see the logical relationship between Perl and linguists.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Larry_Wall . (Larry invented the language; his formal qualifications were in linguistics, but I've never seen a really satisfactory explanation of what aspect of it.)

On the quay of the little Black Sea port, where the rescued pair came once more into contact with civilization, Dobrinton was bitten by a dog which was assumed to be mad, though it may only have been indiscriminating. (Saki)
