My finger slipped and hit `_something_` that cause the partial reply to be sent.

Happened to me too, albeit with Agent. Must be something is the air!

It's much worse than that. (a) The first posting, the one with the finger-slip, hasn't appeared. (b) After I sent the above message, I went back to Dominic's very long message and clicked "read more" and sent another reply (which I think has turned up below). But then when I went back to the newsgroup, some 20 messages (including Dominic's that I was responding to) had disappeared. So I'm missing quite a bit.
