It lasts a few weeks at most.

What do you mean by a few weeks?! The late talker toddlers I am talking about are late by at least one year and more like 2+ years.
They are sent to speech therapists for a reason.

I don't know. I know you guys like to talk about books/papers. But out there, they are people with real flesh and real problems. I am glad you don't need to deal with these problems, but other people do.
