NB. You are welcome to display this collage in your diaz-show at Burlington house today. <http://web.gvdnet.dk/GVD002393/phaistos.htm>

Hagen, I am sorry for your sad feelings about being ignored, as you invested so much time in your interpretation of the PhD. The problem is that we don't understand what you are telling us. I am not the most stupid person around, as you may have found out meanwhile, I tried several times to understand what you are trying to tell us, for I often find something worthwhile in unorthodox views that can be developed, but I failed completely in your case. I simply do not understand what you are telling us. You have the phantastic facility of the Usenet for explaining your ideas, explain them. If something is that obvious to you, you should try to render it in such a way that we can comprehend. Nobody can free you from this task. It is entirely your task. And, by the way, I do not join the conference, as I told several times, I am in Zurich, not in London, so I can't present any dias.
