

Re: Why I am unwilling to use Mathematica if I can help it

Re: Why I am unwilling to use Mathematica if I can help it

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.math.num-analysis/2005-07/msg00104.html>

- From: Han de Bruijn <Han.deBruijn@xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Tue, 12 Jul 2005 12:25:08 +0200
-

Herman Rubin wrote:

This weird collection of uses of \ and [], and other such uses of unnatural mathematical notation, are what I have against Mathematica.

A more profound objection against Computer Algebra Systems is that they don't understand Geometry. I guess that's why they are called 'Computer "Algebra" Systems' :-(

Han de Bruijn