It would be really useful if Mathworks did the same as Wolfram Research and put the documentation online. I don't work for WRI, but I do believe WRI have done an excellent job with the documentation.

Our documentation is already online, and has been for quite a while.

Thanks.

I could have sworn I tried with Google to find the documentation on PRCTILE but drew a blank. When I just tried, so it came up as clear as daylight!

Sorry about that,
