

Re: Pronounce Galois

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.math/2004-10/8159.html>

From: Thomas Nordhaus (thnord2002_at_yahoo.de)

Date: 10/28/04

Date: Thu, 28 Oct 2004 17:19:46 +0200

israel@math.ubc.ca (Robert Israel) schrieb:

>In article <p651o0hejflctp0rf5vq62u4k95tf0c1i@4ax.com>,
>Thomas Nordhaus <thnord2002@yahoo.de> wrote:
>
>>>>Euler
>
>>>"OIL-er"
>
>>That's right, although the final r isn't pronounced much at all. Don't >>pronounce it the Texan way.
>
>OK, I'll try to pronounce a German r in Euler if you'll use Western Actually the New-Englanders will do fine. "Oiluh" is pretty close.

>Canadian r's in pronouncing my name.

I'll work on it.

Thomas

>
>Robert Israel israel@math.ubc.ca
>Department of Mathematics <http://www.math.ubc.ca/~israel>
>University of British Columbia Vancouver, BC, Canada
>
>
>