no Xanthian, the worlds' evolution turned binary, male and female. 2 separate processes evolved the perfect man, 7 and the perfect woman 10. its only the jinx of the truman show, that US researchers 40 years ago figured out the paranormal name by nature coincidences in history as a prophecy that they hunted me down and track and monitor me no end.

why do you bring money into the discussion? are you assuming i am (still) poor? not everyone is obligued by the cliché anti-truman-belief programming. your snippets of my writing are not relevant any more, my fame will be buried for 20 years, your opportunity is over, god has ascended his rightful place as the giver, unknown, $50K in pay per click per year undeveloped, the ice cube on the tip of the iceberg. 20% of internet profits for ever is your own continent. not to mention math.com, given my responsibility not to teach lies.

we've all had technical positions at some point xanthian, your professional status is unimportant. the high pro-rata the mining companies were paying me was very acceptable for them, nobody under 170iq could program the 6 levels of SQL
