I have graced you long enough with my presence. The saying "Do not cast pearls before the swine." applies to most of you in this forum.

No doubt you have all grown fat asses sitting and posting your two cents worth. Whenever someone sees you vilifying a thread, they withdraw and do not wish to be involved. Several members have agreed with my views on Gabriel's theorem. They have done the right thing by contacting me privately. By the way, my email is no longer valid, i.e. logamath@yahoo.com has been deactivated. So spam all you want!! It will help add a few more inches of lard to your glutes.

Unfortunately I spent too much time discussing matters with ignorant and arrogant fools the likes of those in the threads.

This forum belongs to hooligans, thugs and those who will dismiss any idea or knowledge they do not understand or which does not readily fit into their tiny world of misunderstanding.

Goodbye sci.math and good riddance!

Jason Wells.
