Tell you what: stop using "u" and "ur" for "you" and "your", and maybe I'll take a look at it. If you can't be bothered to write intelligible, then I certainly can't be bothered to read it. As it is, reading through that kind of garbage is far more effort than I'm willing to spend on someone else's homework... especially when they are slyly trying to get someone to it for them.
