

Re: Limit Points and Arbitrary Unions/Intersections

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.math/2006-10/msg05503.html>

- From: "rod" <rodwars97@xxxxxxxxxx>
 - Date: Thu, 19 Oct 2006 23:10:53 -0700
-

For 1), write down what it means for x to be a limit point of T . It should be fairly straight forward to show that x is then also a limit point for each A in F .

For question 2), look for a counter-example such that each A in F consists of a single point.

Thanks, got it.

.