

Re: Muslim doctors refuse to treat sinful patients

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.med.cardiology/2004-08/0717.html>

From: Bob (this one) (Bob_at_nospam.com)

Date: 08/11/04

Date: Wed, 11 Aug 2004 01:03:08 -0400

Beav wrote:

> "Dr. Andrew B. Chung, MD/PhD" <andrew@heartmdphd.com> wrote in message > news:411768A4.4BB@heartmdphd.com...

>> However, it is clear from the Book of Genesis that though we are all >> descendants of Adam and Eve, and they were the only humans in the Garden >> of Eden, they were not the only humans in the world outside the Garden >> of Eden.

>

> Mmmm, I wonder where they came from?

And they didn't have sex with anyone except the line of Eve. That's why we're all descended from Eve from about 200,000 years ago. Chung says that. Says he knows it because of mitochondrial DNA work he did and knew about because he knew the people doing the research. And never mind newer developments that disprove it, please, they're the work of the devil to confound true believers.

And those people outside the GofE never had sex that didn't include being impregnated by eve's sons. Oh, wait. Only one lived long enough to do that. So, does that mean that everybody came from Cain? He had sex with every woman not in the GofE? If not, then we didn't all come from Eve, right? But wait, it says that Adam later fathered Seth and then, sons and daughters, no specific details given. So I guess they all had sex with the people not in the GofE or with each other. No mention of any genetic aberrations or hemophilia or anything.

No mention of what role Eve played in all this procreation. Did Adam father children with his children and their children to jump start (so to speak) the entire human race? Did Cain father children with his children and nieces? How about Seth? Could men not in the GofE have fathered children with Adam's sons and daughters? Sounds like a big old time.

Had to work hard to populate the world so densely by the time the legendary but undocumented flood happened.

sci.med.cardiology: Re: Muslim doctors refuse to treat sinful patients

Bob