

Re: FDA approves Pfizer nerve pain drug ~ Lyrica

Source: <http://sci.tech-archive.net/Archive/sci.med.cardiology/2005-01/0163.html>

From: listener (listener_at_nospam.net)

Date: 01/04/05

Date: 04 Jan 2005 14:35:50 GMT

Where is Don questioning Dr. Golomb's credentials? I missed that. And what do her credentials have to do with your statements?

This seems like just another non-response response, which you and zee are very good at. It's just like a shell game: throw out erroneous or bogus "facts" (which, of course, you're free to do) and when questioned on them, divert attention.

L

"Sharon Hope" <shope@anet.net> wrote in news:qinCd.745407$mD.158002@attbi_s02:

- > You are ignorant of the facts in this case.
- >
- > Dr. Golomb does not practice at the university. Her practice is at
- > the VA Medical Center.
- >
- > A renaissance woman, she is the NIH Principal Investigator for the NIH
- > Statin Study (which accepts no drug company funding), and concurrently
- > she is teaching at two universities, and a RAND researcher. She is
- > also the US DOD's expert on Gulf War Syndrome.
- >
- > Her credentials are readily accessible (CV below). What are your
- > credentials?
- >
- > Her CV:
- > <http://medicine.ucsd.edu/faculty/golomb/>
- >
- > CURRICULUM VITAE
- > Beatrice Alexandra Golomb, MD, PhD
- > CURRENT POSITIONS
- >
- > a.. Assistant Professor of Medicine, U.C. San Diego April 1998–
- > Division of General Internal Medicine
- >
- >
- > b.. Staff Physician, San Diego VA Medical Center Aug 1, 1996 –

> Division of General Internal Medicine
> 3350 La Jolla Village Dr.
> San Diego, CA 92161
>
>
> c.. Research Associate Professor, Dept. of Psychology, USC: Oct
> 1998– Social Science Research Institute
> University
> throughout Europe (e.g. England, Germany, Hungary)
>
>
> 7.. Pyridostigmine bromide (PB) and illness in Gulf War veterans:
> Congressional Testimony
> a.. CSPAN live and replay, Nov 16 and Nov 20, 1999
>
>
> 8.. Commentary on others' Gulf War work:
> a.. NBC News (local, channel 7/39, 11–30–99)
> b.. NPR radio, 12–7–99)
>
> "Don Kirkman" <donkirk@covad.net> wrote in message > news:773jt0do1k3qm61iff8q9elvcohlca7jj@4ax.com...
>> It seems to me I heard somewhere that Sharon Hope wrote in article >> <Rp3Cd.742898$mD.174164@attbi_s02>:
>>
>>> The 15% is a measurement of fact.
>>
>> The issue is what is being measured. What is being measured is not >> the general population of cardiac patients nor the general population >> of statin users. What is being measured is Dr. Golomb's caseload, >> which is almost certainly not typical of most statin users because,
>> first, she is in a university setting with patients who to some >> extent are self–selected and in general would be expected to be more >> serious cases and, second, who may have sought her out because of her >> interest in statin effects. The bulk of statin users are unlikely to >> be seeing a doctor at a university or VA clinic.
>> --
>> Don
>> "I do not feel obliged to believe that the same God who has endowed >> us with senses, reason, and intellect has intended us to forgo their >> use. --Galileo Galilei
>
>
>