Andrew – write in to those shows for a guest appearance and use them as a platform for "glowing" to millions. It could be the start of something big. "Darth Vader" Hildner will be in awe....

Perhaps one of those televangelists will have a special on one of those shows. He would fit right in.

Of course, as suggested, he would fit right into a straitjacket for an appearance at the local mental institution. I am sure they will try to treat him outpatient. After all, would you want to spend good money on Andrew?
