My body survived this after it was used at a research hospital to make money on May 25th, 1997. Now I get shit medical care and I am tired of it.

So you're after money as compensation. Typical.

How much $$$??

I want proper medical care for me and my son whom were damaged at Parkland on May 25th, 1997 when we were unwitting victims of a lovely scheme to create oxygen deprived damaged neonates for their NICU. The damaged neonates make gobs of money for the research. Yes, the hospital was compensated handsomely for our "care" and YES IT IS TYPICAL. You would have to ask Parkland what their net was on our case because I have no idea. I imagine they went over-budget on the cover-up so they may be in the red in my case. I was a "difficult" patient.

Glad I could clear that up for you and sorry you are confused.

Love, Laura...THE PATIENT WHO REFUSED TO DIE

Please read my story and then if you want to say I am thankless and ungrateful, fine. You have your reality and I have mine but your opinions have no bearing on my life whatsoever.

My reality says I am thankful every day to be alive. I am also thankful to have the capacity to love even those whom have hurt me. Nearly every day I have a feeling of sorrow for the people involved in hurting me. I am grateful that my spirit does not allow me to do the wrong thing even if doing the right thing is very difficult. As far as money goes...it appears to me that money is the only way to get back my life that was taken from me. I believe with all my heart that I have tried everything else. If you or anybody else can think of some other way for me to get help please tell me. I have put all of my personal information and contact information out on the internet. I have no privacy. I am not hiding. Here is a list of things I have tried:

1. BEGGING Parkland to just fix me.
2. Telling University of Texas Medical School that I would sign papers saying I would not tell my story if they would just fix me and my son with whatever freaky science they have.
3. Begging the Nat'l Institute of Health for medical help; I told them I would sign papers saying I would not tell my story if they would just fix me...they told me to go to UTSW.
4. Asking the US attorney office to help me, I even offered to go into witness protection and assume a new identity if they would just get me proper medical care so I could work and raise my family. They told me to go to the media and to write my congress representatives.
5. I asked countless med. mal lawyers for help. ("This case is too delicate blah blah blah.")
6. Asking Illuminata for advice...She told me to go to the media.

Re: THE PATIENT WHO REFUSED TO DIE. 08/01/08

7. Asking MANY doctors for help.

8. Asking the FBI for help...they told me to go to the media. "We can't help you, the elite rich, (I think he said the top half percent or top 1%) run the country. They control the politicians. Politicians run the government. Politicians have to keep the rich happy. If you can get the public behind you, that threatens the politicians power and they will turn a 180 and support you to keep the public happy...thereby allowing them to keep their jobs." Lovely lesson that was.

So, these are some of the things I have tried over the years over and over. I was not on a mission to uncover the ugly belly of the medical system or human research fundraising or any other government crap. I just wanted to know why I could not get proper medical care after obviously being injured in the hospital. Am I supposed to stop now just because nobody knows what to do with me? I am asking for help. Oh, and yes, I can be a . I tried being shy once; It didn't work.
