SP,

Investigate what? I am not a dentist and hardly know what they are talking about. I only gathered that there are oral manifestations for Crohn's (I have been saying that right along, but I don't understand the technical terms) Is that not a clue that maybe I know what I am talking about after all. Give me some credit, I am badly in need of a little assurance or I am going to kill somebody at the nursing home. (The psychiatrist)
And what you wrote about someone putting you in jail. Is that true. Sometimes I think I would be better off spouting my theories from jail. Maybe the inmates will listen. They have nothing to lose.
