Gail,

I feel that one is never too old to learn. You have access to the internet for research and a group of health professionals here to help translate or point you in the right direction.

If you can find some sites like the Merck manual listed below, they will help you a lot.

The journey of a thousand miles begins with one step.

| Investigate what? I am not a dentist and hardly know what they are talking

| about. I only gathered that there are oral manifestations for crohns I have

| been saying that right along, but I don't understand the technical terms)

Is

| that not a clue that maybe I know what I am talking about after all.

Give me

| some credit, I am badly in need of a little assurance or I am going to kill

| somebody at the nursing home. (The psychiatrist)

| And what you wrote about someone putting you in jail. Is that true.

| Sometimes I think I would be better off spouting my theories from jail.

Maybe

| the inmates will listen. They have nothing to lose.
