Hi everyone,

I met with two oral surgeons recently to discuss implants. One recommended a bone graft (human cadaver source) at the same time as the extraction (of #19), the other felt grafting wasn't necessary.

Any advice as to decide on which one to go with? I suppose I could get a third opinion but the consults are $90 a pop!

Thank you,

Matt

I have found alot of good information on <http://www.ezin2health.com>
