Thanks...I think.

Well—the only photo I remember seeing of you was the closeup with you wearing the Designs For Vision scopes—I seem to remember red hair, but not red neck.

What I mean by rednecks is that they wouldn't fare well here. I live in New York City and we don't tolerate rednecks and rarely encounter them except as tourists.

I knew there was a reason that I've never been to NYC.

It's a miracle that I ever learned how to get on the internet. I can e-mail the photo of the tropy buck I shot last fall.

You look nothing like Crocodile Dundee.
