I am writing to you today as A desperate father pleading for help to save my three-year-old daughter who is dying from a rare form of cancer. Serena has been suffering from neuroplastoma – a tumour in the adrenal glands – for the past 18 months.

She has spent most of her life in hospital undergoing chemotherapy and radiotherapy, but in January this year we were told Serena was in remission.

Serena spent the past few weeks at home living like a normal little girl for the first time. But two weeks ago she was readmitted to hospital, where doctors told her the cancer had returned.

Medics say there is no more they can do, except offer treatments that can prolong her life. Her only apparent hope of beating the disease is to undergo revolutionary treatment in America

If she does not have the treatment she may only have weeks or months to live.

Please, Please help us save our baby.. You can see her story in two local newspapers online.
