So file a missing person report with their local police dept. if you are that worried.

Or there is another police report you can file. I m not sure if it is a missing person report or not, but the police can contact her and ask if she is ok, and then let you know.

Alan, if you know that her hubby berates her for talking to you, why are you doing this? If that is the case you are not helping her in any way shape or form.

I got my x-rays back on my hand. I now have Oseteo Arthritis and feel like crap, so won't be posting much.

Yesterday was a flu shot and another Tederol shot. Since this flared up suddenly, I looked in my Merck Nursing manual and saw that ostero arthritis can be linked back to B-6 toxicity, so I quit taking B-6 again, and I am hoping this subsides.
