(Sample: Blue Christmas – Elvis Presley)

It was the night before Christmas

And the Office of Homeland Security

Had been alerted to a potential security threat

Not a creature was stirring

Martial law was in effect

Terrorists were flying in from the north

Intercepted e-mails revealed the plan

Disrupt the holiday season

With false gestures of brotherly love

This children were chillin'

All snug in their beds

But nightmares of technocracy

Still filled their heads

The libraries were staked out

By G-Men with care

In the hopes that the operative,

How George Stole Christmas

St. Nicklaus, would slip up
Phone lines were tapped
Witnesses intimidated
Evidence was manufactured
Just in case
Miranda was flushed
And the ban on torture rescinded
Dissenters were hushed
The propaganda was splendid
The media reports were firm
An attack was imminent
CNN made it clear
In case you had forgotten
The U.S. had always been at war with the North Pole
Hordes of sympathizers
In matching red uniforms
Were held in detainment camps
Indefinitely
The sightings began at the hour of twelve
A bearded fanatic
Accompanied by elves
The nation held captive
By a small band of thugs
Those brightly wrapped gifts?
Surely weapons or drugs
Fighters were scrambled
How George Stole Christmas

How George Stole Christmas

And radar locks sought

But the elusive red menace

Would not be caught

(Break)

The leaders looked foolish

Impotent, outmatched

The missiles had failed

So a new plan was hatched

A drone sleigh was destroyed

Over a snow-covered field

And when the debris site was cordoned off

The "victory" revealed

The shells sounded trumpets

And the sheep blandly bleated

The country was safe

This "Santa" defeated

But the gifts were delivered

Though all houses locked

The president's stocking

Held nothing but rocks

The true Kringle sped off

Back to his wife

"Merry Christmas to some

And to most, a good night"

I'm just a goddamned piece of paper.

Lord Cerne Abbas

Humpty Dumpty Bush fell off the Iraq wall.
Humpty Dumpty Bush had a big fall.
All his spin doctors and all the President's men couldn't put Humpty Dumpty Bush together again.
