shizer... i'm at a loss to answer that one! socrates is rolling over in his grave, laughing! aristotle on the other hand is fuming.

to be fair, you are grouping together the super fringe with some reasonable dr's. but your point is understood all to well. the FDA has to stop this insantiy of unregulated supplements, etc. they are doing it in the EU, hopefully we will follow suit. nothing wrong with rotating antimicrobials, just not "willy nilly". i don't understand your complaint against quinolines specifically though except for the problem of building up abx resistance.

what the hell is a sputnick... no wait i don't want to know, honestly.

thanks for the trojan horse!
