Not criminal in the legal sense. Criminal as in amoral. Not criminal as in violating any criminal statute.

No she isn't. And if you think she is, you're as certifiable as she is. And as ignorant of the RICO law.

What do the test manufacturers get out of it?

But the insurers don't choose the labs, the doctors do (with some exceptions but usually it is the doctor who chooses a lab if the insurer requires them to but not a particular lab).

Lyme testing is unreliable from all labs.

It isn't a conspiracy that the tests suck. Some things are hard to test for accurately.
