I personally doubt this very much, despite her claims of being "off-the-charts' brilliant"...(which, to answer her repitive insipid inquiry was quoted sarcastically back to her). Modest, too. So far as I know...she has a chemistry degree from some strip mall college and swabbed out petri dishes for awhile for "Big Pharm" Pfizer...which, I seriously doubt, qualifies her as a "scientist".

Maybe. But someone here awhile ago found some of Kathleen's own postings on a psychiatric board that made it very clear that she had mental/emotional problems long before Plum Island, Polly Murray, etc. "El Weird One" was what her family called her. Now...you say to yourself...this sick SOB is obsessed to know and remember all these details...no, not really...see, Kathleen posted all this private intimate stuff daily for months, even years. SHE is the one making it all about Kathleen...and it is really ABSURD for anyone to think it is not fair to comment when she sprays it all over the internet herself.

NB can be a convenient EXCUSE...it's easier to say "I have a permanent brain infection", isn't it? Maybe people with "permanent brain infections" should be more careful and self-monitoring and self-editing if they are going to continue to insist on posting all over the internet and misleading people with spurious and inflammatory accusations.

Re: pig driteman

That's intelligent. (Yawn). Wow. I suppose you have some proof of that sort of thing? Not.

"...now, this woman has lost

And you KNOW this, because...? What? She says so? Gee, didn't the COURT award custody to her ex? Seems the Judge who heard the actual testimony and had the parties before him...disagrees with your assessment. I suppose you are better informed?

"...and oh yeah, this woman has also been diagnosed with an > autistic syndrome".

Yeah...autistic...NB...tin foil on her head...anti-depressants...psychotropic drugs by the shopping bag full...just the type of person who should be on the internet 24/7 providing leadership to the Lyme community.

Hey...did it ever occur to you that NB might impact on a person's logical and judgmental abilities?...maybe it's really NOT such a good idea to be posting all this CRAP while suffering from a PERMANENT BRAIN INFECTION?

You may not have noticed...but I was just asking her some simple questions...how is that "verbally abusing" her? Just a deliberate exercise to show what she's made of. All she had to do was tell the truth...which she obviously has a problem with.

You know what?

This is NOT all about Kathleen. Sorry to have to be the one to tell you that.

She has NO right to elevate her PERSONAL problems to be major political issues.

She also has a RESPONSIBILITY to tell the TRUTH...just as she insists on others doing so.

> "what kind of MAN would treat a person in Kathleen's shoes like this"?

Kathleen did this to herself...don't you understand that? And a few

Re: pig driteman

VERY, very misguided "friends" encouraged and assisted her in her self-destruction.
