She posted them, I responded, I didn't know about header trimming or whatnot, I posted here, she cross posted, I responded without knowing, get it?

Yeah, I so get it; you responded to all those other newsgroups, YOU posted to all of them by not trimming your headers, then you blamed someone else. Ignorance is no excuse for accusing another of posting your posts all over the place.

Annoyed as hell that's why.

And hoping that someone would return control of the newsgroup to some sane people if there are any here. I thought maybe I caught it at a bad time. I didn't trust you any more than anyone else, why should I?

Uh, because I wasn't posting a lot of crazy BS to ten different newsgroups, and I offered you sane advice in direct, relevant responses to your questions, til it became clear that you only wanted to talk about Kathleen?

This is unmoderated usenet; no one can stop others from posting.

You

told me the group sucked, others said it was great. How do I know? You

Re: ireallywant2believe is a troll sure turned out to be right about one thing tho this newsgroup sure does suck big time.

Who said this group was great,
