We are not a third world country. We did not get hit by a hurricane, earthquake, or tornado. We are just your average American family that has been hit hard by medical illness. Jeff is currently on taking 12 perscriptions. And two weeks ago his career came to a rapid end with an emergency operation. His heath has been going down hill rapidly for the past 8 months. He has tried to stay strong but is starting to give up hope.

Are there people out there that can help this family in need? The are begging and pleading for help to 'see the light'.

Take a moment and read:

Thank you to all that can open their hearts!
