Good afternoon.

For some weeks I and others researching topics of interest to the Lyme community have been subject to sustained interference in our private email, land and cellphone communications, and other forms of harassment. I have for some time written publicly that Lyme disease is a biowarfare issue, and have provided substantial evidence to support this, though this has been constantly denied by the US federal health agencies. Most of the others that I work with share this belief, though not all have written about it publicly.

I have had indications of interference in my communications before, but never at the intensity with which it is happening now. As far as I can see, it is the fact that I have been researching the topic of darkfield microscopy and alternative culture mediums as a tool for diagnosis, as well its relation to Lyme as one cause of ME/CFS, that has caused myself and people I work with to be subjected for this incredible level of harassment. I am therefore now handing over the logs of my firewall to members of Parliament, of the Lyme community, the media and many others. If any bona fide Lyme patient or doctor wants a hard copy, please contact me by email.

Below is the firewall log which detected the hacking activity against my computer. Two of the entries, when traced in the publicly available WhoIs register, reveal that the source of the problem is the US Department of Defense, and specifically, the US Navy.

In order to accomplish this, the US Navy has illegally interfered not only with the private communications of myself and others in the UK, the US and other countries, but has also had unlawful access to the technology of several major companies on foreign soil. It is not yet clear to me whether the US Navy was granted permission to interfere with our communications by the well-known companies concerned, which include British Telecom, several nationally or internationally known mobile phone service providers, a Europe-wide internet provider, AOL, and many others, or whether they did this covertly. I will be making efforts to find out.
